

Children's Aid Society
of Oxford County

Thank You Oxford County!

The Children's Aid Society of Oxford County is a non-profit, charitable community agency that provides guidance, counseling and other services to families for the protection of children.

We are winding up our 10th Annual Angel Tree Campaign. The Angel Tree Campaign supports families in need during the Christmas Season by providing gifts and clothing for children and teens. New pajamas, socks and underwear for kids of all ages are also collected and distributed. This year over 575 children were sponsored.

Like many other charitable organizations in Oxford County, we are privileged to work with many private and corporate citizens who are able to support us in many ways. An extra special thanks to the Cowan Foundation for their generous donation to the Angel Tree Campaign and Saint-Gobain Abrasives Canada Inc. for their generous donation that will support our older youth in care in achieving their post secondary educational goals and enable children from low-income families to attend summer camp and other special programs that they would not normally be able to attend.

A special thank you to everyone who have helped make this a special Christmas for children and families in Oxford County.

Happy Holidays
